

Open Up Communication Training Program 2010

For Counsellors, Coaches, Facilitators and Trainers And People Who Work With People

My purpose in offering this training is that I have made a commitment to be all I can be in the world, to live from the paradigm of love and responsible creativity, to embrace the paradigm “I Create The Whole Of My Own Reality” and to share this with others.

I have also made a commitment to keep spreading the work in the world and for the past few years have been sitting with this. I know I have a lot to share and want to make this available to you in a way that supports you to be all you can be in your work, whatever form it takes.

My intention is to empower you to take your magnificent self into every moment and show up as cause in all you be and do and have. 12 days of intensive personal and professional development to take you and your work to the next level. It will be dynamic; rigorous and challenging – and perfectly perfect for everyone who chooses to participate.

About The Program

The program consists of 4 Modules, each running 3 days, commencing February 10th 2010. The format is 2 training days and 1 day of The Go Deeper Forum where you will have the space, time and support to process and integrate your learning after each module.

The program includes training and deeper distinctions on all the Open Up Workshop Models and Processes; applications for how to deliver the work, how to build a practice/business, how to create sustainable change for yourself and your clients and how to share and work collaboratively. There will be space and time for sharing, discussion and application and “how to...” specific to your needs.
